Prayer Points

Our Church

Ministry & Budget Dialogue (today) —

Thank God for all the efforts to coordinate how the many ministry groups use the resources we trust Him to provide us—both human resources and money. Pray for good sharing and understanding of ministry plans, and that God will guide and equip us, especially through the Holy Spirit, to be His channels of blessing in the coming year.

Goody Bag Distribution — Thank God for the volunteers who packed the goody bags. Pray for Action Groups and other volunteers to be sufficient for the more than 4,000 bags to be given out the coming 2 weekends (see p 8). Pray that God will work through our people giving out the bags, as well as the invitations in the various flyers, to draw some to Himself.

Tuition Ministry and Christianity

Explored — We also praise God for sustaining our tutors and hosts, and those in supporting roles, over the last many weeks. The programmes are now ended for the year. Pray that the Holy Spirit will continue to work in the lives of the individuals and families, who came either for academic help or to find out more about Christianity.

Retreats — Praise God for enabling the Senior Adult Ministry and Men's Ministry to have their retreats. Pray that they may continue to encourage each other to walk close to God and to follow and serve Him.

Our People

Chacko Thomas — Do continue to pray for his teaching and speaking. The coming week has meetings for leaders and churches. Pray for him to receive God's leading, as well as for protection over all participants.

Our World

Yemen — Pray for God's mercy on this desperate situation. As fighting and air strikes increase in the port city of Hodaydah, an entry point for vital supplies, 14 million Yemenis are at risk of famine; over 8 million are considered to be at risk of starvation, including almost 400,000 children under the age of five. Besides the conflict between divided Yemeni groups, there is also the presence of Al-Qaeda and the involvement of Iran and Arab nations, all with their agendas. Pray that an end to civilian suffering will be found soon.

Mental Health

Philippians 4:8 — Whatever is true, whatever is honourable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence, if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things.

A couple of weeks ago, I found myself sitting in a roomful of mainly young adults, deeply concerned for the growing problem of mental illness.

2019 has been marked by the President of Singapore as the year to raise awareness and carry out fund-raising for this national issue. Yet the questions we were specifically asking, were: What about the church? What role does the church play in dealing with the mental health challenges that arise within the Body of Christ? And of course, what does the Word of God uniquely say to this issue, above and beyond all the noble efforts of the country's social services?

This was no easy matter. There were a range of conditions: depressive disorders, bipolar disorders, anxiety disorders, dementia, etc. Then there are the potential causes: neuro-chemical, cultural stress, bad habits, demonic influence—or all the above?

The hope was that 2019 could also be the year that the church seriously considers how to minister to those who are suffering—not just relying on counsellors, psychiatrists, or pastors—but what can every member do to help every member, in these difficult seasons? We didn't come to any conclusions, but we decided to keep meeting, documenting, and bringing in experienced experts as we continue the conversation.

In the end, the question that stuck with me was this: just because some of us don't have mental illness, does that mean we have good mental health? Are we teaching one another good (and scriptural) mental health practices in the body of Christ? Where does this fit in to our spiritual growth and learning?

In these two months we have had four spiritual formation courses on offer. I believe these do address how we can handle our thoughts and inner life. These, in addition to the Journey and Mental Health First Aid courses, are things we can no longer consider optional extras in our discipleship training.
