Here I Am

1 Samuel 3:1-10

“Here I am”

What does it mean? Who says it?

The Call

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.

Conclusion: Your servant is listening

Reflection Questions:

1. What has God called you to do first?
2. Have you presented yourself to Him as His servant, and said, “Here I am”?
3. Keep the card with you throughout Missions Month (July) and remain in a posture of waiting and listening to God. As God leads you, fill in the card by the end of the month, and submit it as your personal response to the God.

Prayer Points

Our People

JC - In this season where his main work is to mobilise prayer for missions, particularly for hard places and Christians suffering around the world, he requests prayer for wisdom, discernment and a constant reliance on God. Pray also for the Lord's protection to be upon him as he serves.

Reggie Ng (SYFC) – Pray for wisdom and discernment in this season as he works to equip churches in Singapore to reach non-believing youth, develop young adult volunteers in SYFC's polytechnic ministry to follow up with seekers, and nurture the brothers and sisters there to be confident in and convicted of the Gospel.

Our Denomination

BPCIS Retreat – Do pray for close to 100 leaders from across the denomination who will be heading off to Malaysia for our annual retreat. This year's retreat is particularly important as it is the 15th year of BPCIS, and messages will be shared by various BP pastors highlighting lessons from the past, challenges of the present and our hopes for the future. Pray also for at least 3 other BP Churches that are considering joining the denomination!

“House” Moving

Our family have just yesterday moved to our new house after 20 years in the old. I thought I would grieve and miss the old house. I did, but more. I realise I grieve also for the “loss” of our neighbours. In fact, the grief was exacerbated when a few neighbours came by to bid goodbye with their eyes tearing up. But something beautiful happened in the midst of grief. Vivienne shared the Gospel with one neighbour and she prayed to receive Christ! Our grief turned to joy!

In fact, the recent months have been a period of heightened grief for me. There were more bereavements than usual and sometimes back-to-back. To be sure, it is an immense privilege to be allowed to journey with the different families as they mourn the loss of their loved ones.

What time is more precious than that few days where the families are still able to “see” their loved ones before the burial or cremation. Hence, mindful of such privilege, I try as best as I could to be keenly sensitive of the needs of the moment, whether in saying something or even knowing to keep quiet.

However, doing so is itself a draining emotional exercise as it involved grieving together with the families. Just recently, a family member asked, “Pastor, how do you cope with such repeated emotional rollercoaster?” Kind of caught off-guard, I stumbled with an awkward, “Pray lor. Ask God for His grace.”

But later Paul’s word in 1 Corinthians 5:1-6 came to mind, “For we know that if the tent that is our earthly home is destroyed, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens... So we are always of good courage. We know that while we are at home in the body we are away from the Lord...”

Coping mechanisms, especially in grief, are good. But greater still, it is to possess a hope that transcends this earthly tent and its possessions. That we catch hold of it so tightly that we have no room to hold on to other things. Because our destiny and destination is not in this life, but in the eternal life that God has in store for us.

Yes, moving house, whether the physical house or the physical body, will bring us grief. But let us be reminded that we are only “moving” to a better house. Are you looking forward and ready to “move house” then? Indeed, our earthly grief can and will turn into heavenly joy.
